

Following feedback from Council and Board members the Be Board has agreed the latest proposal and timetable for merger with Constructing Excellence, to be operationally effective from April 1. The next stages to be fleshed out include subscription levels and the overall fit with nCRISP. The proposed branding of Be is as the discreet specialist research and collaborative working division of the new organisation. A meeting of the chairmen and chief executives is to be scheduled urgently to continue working out the detail in time for the Council meeting on February 16 which all Council members are strongly urged to attend.
